SUBJECT: GIS based decentralized planning and monitoring under Mahatma Gandhi NREGA: Brainstorming Workshop

Dear

In view of large scale of the programme it is necessary to make best use of latest GEO-ICT tools (GIS, GPS, Remote Sensing, Smart Cards / Hand held devices, Biometrics, etc) for better participative planning, monitoring and management of assets. This will not only help in ensuring effective implementation and proper management of the programme but will also bring transparency.

2. Your State has done GIS based scientific planning in Watersheds of Gujarat State and has village level maps. As someone who has worked closely on the project we would greatly value your inputs to help us prepare a strategy and evolve parameters for standardization with an objective to link GIS with planning, labour budget and monitoring.

3. Accordingly we would request you to make a presentation in a brainstorming workshop to be organized on 15th Feb, 2010 at Unatti Hall, Krishi Bhavan, New Delhi at 2:00 PM. We would request you to send us the presentation at email (ritesh_saxena123@yahoo.com).

4. A background paper on this is available at ("<http://www.nrega.net/ict>") –GIS & RS Background note. You may examine this conceptual framework and so that a GIS / GPS/ Remote Sensing based project for Planning of works and Asset Management System is initiated in your State.

Yours sincerely,
